The school children very pleasantly surprised their teacher, Miss Elsie Lair, Friday evening, with a dainty luncheon. While she was out on the campus grounds playing ball with the smaller children, the older pupils, assisted by Miss Maurine Weaver, slipped into the room and placed paper napkins on the teacher's desk, and each of the pupils, and thereon placed a dainty menu that was fit for a queen. When recess was taken up, much to the teacher's surprise, she enjoyed what the pupils had prepared for her. This shows the appreciation of the pupils towards their teacher, and I guess they were returning the compliments of the Halloween party she gave for them the Saturday before.

Minister Was Puzzled.

At a marriage service performed some time ago in a little country church in Georgia, when the minister said in a solemn tone: "Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" Instead of the woman answering for herself, a gruff man's voice answered: "I will." The minister looked up very much perplexed and again he repeated the sentence, and again the same gruff voice answered, "I will." Again the minister looked up surprised, not knowing what to make of it, when one of the groomsmen at the end of the row said: "She is deaf. I am answering for her." — Lippincott's Magazine.

Gave the Thing Away.

Harry—I understand Gertrude Gad-alotte married a man who made a big fortune by a lucky speculation in soap. Grace—Yes; and he disgraced her while they were on their honeymoon. Harry—How did he do it? Grace—Gertrude wanted the other passengers to think an ocean voyage was an old story to them, when her husband, the first crack out of the box, pointed to a row of life preservers and asked the captain what was the idea of all the extra tires.

Whole Class Guilty.

A school-teacher complained to the principal the other day that one of the big boys was flirting outrageously with the music teacher, who came in once a day. The principal spoke severely to the class and ended by saying that, out of consideration for the feelings of the culprit, he would not name him in public. At the close of the session, however, he was to come to the principal's office for an interview. Yes, you guessed it. All the boys in the class showed up.

Asking Too Much.

Vicar—You know, Thomas, you set the younger men of the parish a bad example by going into public houses on Sunday. Why don't you take your gallon of beer home on Saturday night? Thomas—Ah, sir, A couldn't gang t' sleep w' a gallon o' beer in the house.—London Tatler.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN.

The Federated Alumni of Greater Kansas City and vicinity desires you to allow them to make a statement through your columns to this effect:

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

The alumni held its first meeting of the fall on October 22, 1914, at the Garrison Square Field House. A goodly number were present. The executive committee, through its chairman, Prof. Boster of the Sumner High school, Kansas City, Kas., reported that it had decided that the association should discuss for study this year the history of the Negro race, from its origin and development up to the present time, through all of its phases and many sidedness. This history shall be in the form of monthly editorials, in which at each meeting there shall be an editor in chief who will associate with him two or three associate editors, and they together will write and prepare for presentation in person their editorials on that particular phase of the historical development of the race, set apart for that particular monthly discussion, and so on down the line until we have systematically, intelligently, authoritatively and logically studied and discussed, by all members, up to and inclusive of, the present time, in order that we may have a thorough and fundamental conception of the origin and "fari passu" development of our beloved race. For instance, for our next meeting, which will take place on the third Thursday in November, we shall present for discussion and study the history of the Negro race up to and inclusive of the Fifteenth century, from the very beginnings of human existence. The speakers or editors for this occasion will be: Prof. Boster, who will be the editor-in-chief. His associate editors will be Rev. Wm. H. Thomas, pastor of Allen chapel; Prof. G. N. Grisham, principal of Lincoln High school, Kansas City, Mo., and Hon. L. Amasa Knox, the learned colored lawyer of the Kansas City, Mo., bar. All members are invited to be present on that occasion, for I am sure that the editorials will be inspiring, instructive and interesting indeed.

By order of the president,
MISS ANNA JONES.
WM. B. BRUCE,
Corresponding Secretary.
